JOHN HARRISON SURRATT.

From the Montreal Minerve.

The name of Surratt's denouncer in Rome is Henry Benjamin Ste. Marie, not Ladger, as we stated yesterday. We must add that he was not discharged from the Banque du Peuple, but on the contrary left it on his own free will, having given complete satisfaction to the chief of the office. A few days after he left the education office he sent back a portion of the money which he had carried away, and his relations have paid the balance. Ste. Marie belongs to an excellent family, who no doubt greatly regret the echo which his name has received from these late antecedents, but whose honor cannot be affected by the aberrations, no matter what, of one of its members.

Ste. Marie went to the United States. He had some acquaintance at Baltimore, and he obtained letters of recommendation for Washington. It was there that he knew Surratt. The latter, indeed, obtained for him the place of schoolmaster in a village named Texas in Maryland, and it is under the title of schoolmaster that he is spoken of in the dispatch of Gen. King. He afterward took service on board the State of Georgia, and then in the army of the north. At the conclusion of a murderous engagement he was left for dead on the field of battle, and in endeavoring to escape he fell into the hands of the Confederate troops, who sent him on to Richmond. There he furnished Mr. Seddon some valuable information as to the conduct of certain individuals, who did not hesitate, under an exterior of zeal and patriotism, to deceive and rob the government. This conduct of Ste. Marie conciliated for him the favor of the government at Richmond, which procured for him the means of going on to Nassau and thence to Liverpool. After some time spent in France and Belgium, he returned to Canada. In the course of last summer he took passage for Marseilles from Montreal, on board of a French merchant vessel. He lived some time at Marseilles, then at Ajaccio in Corsica, and afterward proceeded to Rome, where he took service in the Papal troops.

As to Surratt, that is what we learn of his itinerancy since the 14th of April. Before that date he had made several voyages from Washington to Canada as the bearer of dispatches addressed to the agents of the Confederate government at Montreal. At the end of Lent he was in Canada, and on Palm Sunday he was at mass in the parish church of Montreal. He wrote to his mother an account of that ceremony, which has been published in several of the American papers. On Thursday, April 12, he set out for Washington; in the evening he was at Elmira, in the state of New York, where he passed the night. His name may be seen on the register of the hotel. On Saturday morning the newspapers made him acquainted with the assassination of Lincoln. Seeing his name on the list of persons accused of the crime he resolved to fly, and took the road back to Canada. The cars were detained at St. Albans, where he had to pass the day on Sunday. At the station he lost his pocket handkerchief, on which was his name, which did not contribute to quiet his apprehensions. He reached Montreal on Monday evening. His friends counselled him to proceed to Europe, which he did by one of the first steamers which left from Quebec.

He remained some time at Birkenhead, near Liverpool, where in the autumn he met Mr. Cameron, the celebrated bearer of dispatches, intending to prove that Young and his companions were regularly commissioned by the Confederate government. Such are the accounts communicated to us by a person in whom we have full confidence. Mr. Potter, therefore, must have been mistaken in the identity of Surratt, since he announced that he had left for England only in the month of September. It was Cameron who left Canada for Liverpool at that time, and (as Mr. Potter says of Surratt) had passed the summer with a priest—not of the district of Three Rivers, however, but of the district of Quebec—where he has been since his return from Europe, three or four weeks ago. There is a long history of a confession made by Surratt during the voyage to a person unknown to him, and for the simple pleasure of talking. If we are to believe the informer, he even avowed that Jefferson Davis and Madame Surratt made part in the plot which had for its object the assassination of Mr. Lincoln.

Persons who knew Surratt well at the time of his passing through Montreal, and who talked with him at length respecting the incidents of the conspiracy, have always heard him repeat the same version, of which the substance has been transmitted by us. There was really a conspiracy at Washington, but it was intended to carry off Mr. Lincoln, not to kill him. They wished to carry him off to Richmond in order to exchange him against all the prisoners made by the north. Booth and Surratt made part of this conspiracy. Booth was looked upon with favor at Washington, and his relations were those of a perfect gentleman, which explains his connection with Surratt, who himself belongs to a family in an excellent position. It was while Surratt was at Montreal that the project was modified. Booth had discovered the impossibility of carrying off Lincoln, and had offered to assassinate him. Surratt knew nothing of this evil resolution before he saw from the newspapers that it had succeeded only too well. As to Mr. Johnson and Jefferson Davis, Surratt did not cease to protest their complete ignorance of the crime of Booth. Their names had never been mentioned by the conspirators. As to his mother, whose innocence is now acknowledged by all who have studied without passion the details of her trial, Surratt did not cease to declare that she knew nothing of the conspiracy in which the law adjudged her to have participated, no more than of the crime she was made to expiate on the scaffold. Surratt has on several occasions made proof of too much intelligence, ability and filial veneration to make it possible that we should believe in this pretended confession of the guilt of his mother, which is mentioned in the official dispatches.

It was in Liverpool that Surratt took the name of Watson, which was on the false passport procured for him by a friend. His real name is John Harrison Surratt. Sometimes he mentioned himself only by the two surnames, and several of his letters, even before his flight, were signed John Harrison. It was not until August that he enlisted in the Pontifical zouaves. A letter from him, dated at the end of July, shows that he had not then joined the service. His flight was much favored by the absence of exact accounts of his person. The portraits communicated to the police were the reverse of likenesses. This led to some singular mistakes on the part of some too zealous agent, and of some informers less able than devoted.

As to Surratt, all who have known him agree in saying that he was an enthusiast, such as men are at twenty, and exalte as one becomes in the midst of a fierce civil war; but that he was endowed with too much intelligence not to be aware that the death of Mr. Lincoln would be more injurious than useful to the south, and too much a man of honor to ever dabble in an assassination. He will shortly be in Washington, and all may expect an interesting trial. Let us hope that now when passions have had time to grow calm and law again has force, justice alone will triumph not only for the accused, but for those who expect from this process their acquittal and liberation.

The Late General Cleburne.

We have been requested by a correspondent to inform him of the birth-place of the late Gen. Patrick Cleburne, of the Confederate army.

We have no official information on this subject before us, but it is our belief that Gen. Cleburne was born in Ireland, and we know that he was certainly at one time a private and non-commissioned officer in the English army. He came to this country some fifteen or twenty years ago, and settled, we believe, in Mississippi. He entered the Confederate army as a private and was promoted through every grade to the rank of major-general which he bore when he fell. (Charleston Mercury.

THE PLANTING INTEREST.

From all we can hear, planters in this section, says the Macon Journal, are preparing with less hope than last year, but not with less energy, another cropping. Most of them will perhaps have greater difficulties to encounter than confronted them last year. We think their stock of provisions is, upon an average, shorter, their supplies of money very little increased, while the chances for loans and accommodations are worse.

With money at two and a half per month, and everybody in a strait, affairs must improve vastly before advances of cash or extended credits on provision purchases can be reasonably expected by the planter; and, at the same time, the result of one year's trial under the new system, has sensibly diminished public faith in the security of debts which must be paid out of net profits.

The fact is, the planter should abandon forever the old idea of operating on a year's credit. In the olden time the capital invested in his slaves furnished ample security, as readily transmittable into cash as his cotton crop. Now, he can offer none beyond the lands he cultivates (if he owns them,) and these are slow of sale. It is of vital importance, therefore, that the planter should be in condition to assume his risks. He must lay by, from year to year, abundance of corn and meat to provision his force, and money enough to supply their operative necessities. A far greater necessity is imposed upon him to provide well for the future, than existed at the time when he owned his own laborers, and they, in fact, constituted a capital as available as, and more productive than, money at interest.

In this view of the matter many will feel this year far more pungently than ever before, the mistake of failing to make ample provision for food crops, and we can not doubt that it is an error which will be carefully avoided in the future. The necessity of buying and transporting large supplies of corn and meat to the plantation, will prove so grievous and oppressive that we cannot believe a single Georgia planter will fail of giving his sharpest attention to the cornfield and the stock. With plenty of meat and bread, and a stock of money enough to supply the current wants of his laborers in clothing, tobacco, etc., the road is clear for a fair and comfortable agricultural experiment, without importuning money lenders and tradesmen to assume your risks of a crop failure, and charge accordingly. Let each planter, therefore, during the present season, devote his first care to laying a solid foundation for future operations, and the road thereafter will be comparatively smooth and easy.

We are pleased to note a growing demand for guano and chemical manures. Considering the poverty of the country, the market for these products is remarkably active, and we are confident that all our planters will find it to their account to cultivate less land, with greater care and thoroughness. A deep and thorough pulverization of the soil, with the use of manures of all kinds will produce surprising results. We believe it will be found easier and cheaper to raise twenty bushels of corn on one acre than on two. But let every man try the experiment, if but on a small scale, and satisfy himself.

WHAT THE SOUTH HAS TO EXPECT.

In the United States house of representatives on Saturday, says the Charleston Mercury, THAD. STEVENS declared that he would never vote for the admission of any state which did not confer negro suffrage; and it is also stated that he will to-day introduce a resolution instructing the judiciary committee to prepare a bill, if expedient, declaring the southern states to be in a state of siege, and suspending the writ of habeas corpus, and establishing military governments until they are regularly readmitted.

During the debate in the house, Mr. SPAULDING, of Ohio, said if three-fourths of the states would ratify the amendment, Virginia would make no objection; and Mr. KELLY, of Pennsylvania, said the writers of letters which he had received from North and South Carolina expressed the same views.

The position now openly taken by THAD. STEVENS, as the representative of the extreme radicals, shows plainly that if the right of representation alone were at issue, the southern states would still gain nothing by adopting the amendment. We might dishonor ourselves; we might sacrifice all those gallant men who fought and bled for us during the late war; we might falsify all our principles and our every belief; we might give up all hope of material prosperity and then!—we should but meet more conditions,—we should but find more stringent measures pressed upon us,—we should learn, when too late, that all our sacrifices and all our humiliations had been utterly in vain.

Mr. STEVENS denies the southern states the right of voting upon the amendment, and in this he is consistent; but the statement that Virginia, or any other southern state, would accept, when secured by others, that which she dared not endeavor to obtain for herself is entirely and absolutely false. Letters may have been sent to radical members of congress asserting that Virginia and North and South Carolina would agree to the amendment, if adopted, without their action, by a sufficient number of states to secure its ratification; but those letters were written by such men as those who called for territorial governments for Louisiana and South Carolina—by men who are either unknown among the people whom they profess to represent or who are so well known that their very names are infamous in the mouths of their fellow-citizens. The southern states will not adopt the amendment because they cannot do so without the loss of everything that makes life dear—honor, reputation, principle and interest; and the same determination which causes them to reject it now will prevent them from looking to any compromise, or from desiring that others should pusillanimously undertake that which they have resolved never to do themselves!

OLD THAD.

A rare old patriot, says the St. Louis Union, is THAD. STEVENS. What to him is the old union but something to despise? His whole life has been spent in rendering it not only contemptible in the eyes of the people of the north, but hateful to the south! He does not want it restored—far from that, he is expending the very last days of his life in preventing its restoration. Whatever compromises others may agree upon, he will have none of them. He will not agree that the constitutional amendment shall constitute the finality. Neither will he trade amnesty for universal suffrage, as proposed by GREELEY, and asserted to by COSMOS B. G. BROWN. For himself, he repudiates all such "bargains" as declared in congress on the 4th inst. Mr. STEVENS said:

> I deny that there is any understanding, expressed or implied, that upon the adoption of the amendment by any state, that such state may be admitted (before the amendment becomes a part of the constitution.) Such a course would soon surrender the government into the hands of the rebels. Such a course would be senseless, inconsistent and illogical. Congress denies that any state lately in rebellion has any government or constitution known to the constitution of the United States, or which can be recognised as a part of the union. How then can such a state adopt the amendment? To allow it would be yielding the whole question and admitting the unimpaired rights of the seceded states. I know of no republican who does not ridicule what Mr. Seward thought a cunning movement, in counting Virginia and other outlawed states among those which had adopted the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery.

No grace with STEVENS. However humiliating the punishment he inflicts he conspires to render himself more terrible and more hated in that which he withholds. His threats, unlike most politicians, are more feared than his acts.

TENNESSEE NEWS.

The unconditional union men of Hamilton county held a convention at Harrison on Monday last, to appoint delegates to attend the state convention to be held in Nashville on the 22d of February next. The convention adopted resolutions urging the nomination of Gov. W. G. Brownlow, and cordially indorsing the course of their representative in congress, Hon. W. B. Stokes. During their fanatical proceedings they requested the present legislature of Tennessee to use measures to exclude rebels from power. Delegates to the state convention were appointed from each civil district in the county.

At a meeting of the directors of the Nashville and Decatur railroad, held in Nashville on the eighth inst., the following persons were elected officers of the road for the present year: J. W. Sloss, president; J. B. Van Dyne, general superintendent; Geo. W. Seay, secretary, and Frank Hardeman, treasurer. As this is one of the first meetings of the consolidated company, much interest attaches to its proceedings by those concerned in the road. We learn that the business of this leading line, for some months past, has been very good.

His honor, Connelly F. Trigg, United States district judge for this state, will hold the next term of the United States circuit court at Nashville. The term will commence on the third Monday in April next. There has been no term of this court held in the state since the circuits were changed by the late act of congress, the judges of the supreme court not being assigned to their several circuits.

The Murfreesboro' Monitor proposes the Hon. Edmund Cooper as a candidate for governor, in opposition to the godless, law-defying Brownlow party.

A brakesman on the Chattanooga railroad fell off the train the other day and was instantly killed—the train passing over his thighs and severing them from his body. His name was Wm. Evans.

James Dixon, a fireman of Nashville, received the unexpected information on Monday of this week, that he had fallen heir to $100,000 worth of property and $50,000 in money, by the death of a relative in Mississippi. Mr. Dixon was a poor man, with nothing to depend on but his own exertions for the support of his wife and five children.

At the reorganization of the Nashville blood-horse association, the other day, Mr. Ben. F. Cockrell was elected president, and Mr. Geo. W. Darden, secretary—both old and prominent members of the association, and they are thoroughly identified with the turf interests of the state.

On Friday last B. Ward, sheriff of Coffee county, in a friendly scuffle with a neighbor, fell and broke his leg.

A negro woman has been lecturing lately in Nashville. The press of that place say she is honored by large audiences of niggers, of all sexes, and that she is educated strictly in accordance with northern ideas, and imbued with political principles hot from the fiery brain of Oberlin professors. In one of her lectures she said:

> The south is the theater of our people. In the north we are overshadowed by a civilization that is four hundred years in advance of us. The old foundations of society are overturned. Cotton was the great power which kept slavery in existence. I would have the colored man get this cotton into his hands. If there is a man in this house who made one bale of cotton for his master, let him now go to work and make two for himself. Let him say, "I will do something for myself."

The election for officers of the corporation of the city of Knoxville, on Saturday last, resulted in the selection of the old board, as follows: Mayor—Col. J. C. Luttrell. Aldermen—Hiram Barry, A. Kennedy, M. F. Smith, L. C. Shepard, Sam. Newman, C. C. Nelson, G. L. Powell, A. S. Huldiburg, Jos. Burt, Pat. Cain.

Gen. John Crozier Ramsey, of Knoxville, is preparing an elaborate opinion to demonstrate the unconstitutionality of the franchise law, and the verdict of the military authorities which consigned him, three years ago, to work on the fortifications of that city, with a ball and chain to his leg, guarded by negro soldiers.

Galveston papers furnish the following basis for the story that Escobedo, the Juarist commissioner, has been hanged: "The gunboat Talapoosa arrived this morning. She stopped a few moments at Brazos. There her officers learned that the forces of Canales and Cortina had followed Escobedo as was surmised in our last Mexican news. They overtook, captured and brought him back to Matamoros, where he was hanged on the morning of the 31st by order of Canales, who is in command at Matamoros."

A Father Accidentally Kills His Child.

On Monday last Mr. George Wise, of West Bethlehem township, Washington county, Penn., accidentally shot and mortally injured his child, and severely wounded his wife. Mr. Wise was shooting hogs, and had exploded a cap and was resting his rifle upon his arm to cap it, when the gun was discharged, the ball passing through the head of an infant in the arms of his wife and lodging in her breast. The child died in a few hours, and the ball was extracted from the breast of the mother and she is likely to recover. Of course language would fail to express the grief of the unhappy husband and father. It is another warning to be careful when handling firearms. (Pittsburg Dispatch.

The City Bridge.

The work of putting in a new span in the city bridge, where the draw formerly was, was about completed yesterday, and teams will probably be able to cross to-day. The recent accident on the bridge has rendered many people fearful of crossing on it; and the ferry will probably divide the tolls with the bridge.—American and Union.

The Paper Business.

It is estimated that there are 1000 paper mills in the United States, with about $40,000,000 capital, and producing about 1200 tons of paper daily. The rags that are used up annually are said to be worth $60,000,000, and amount to 37,500 tons. An immense amount of straw and wood and other material is also made up into paper; and when it is known that within the past four years paper has doubled in price, the enormous expense of publishing a daily newspaper of large circulation can readily be realized.

Noon Dispatches.

NEW YORK, January 11.—At a meeting in Manhattan Fenian circles a satisfactory report was read from James Stephens. Roberts' men say they have gained vastly by Stephens' failure, and that every thing is moving in the right direction.

Salt Lake papers report the massacre of nine miners by the Navajoes, near Cullville, on the Colorado river.

The board of councilmen had a stormy session to-day. Councilman Long threw an inkstand at President Brinksman's head, and others called Brinkman a liar and perjurer. Pistols were exhibited and Brinkman was arrested. It is believed that the municipal business will remain locked until Brinkman resigns.

Mexican correspondence from Vera Cruz, December 29th, says all the French troops are concentrating at the capital, preparatory for leaving the country. The French transport Rhone is at Vera Cruz, ready to take the French whose time have expired. The Austrian steam yacht Elizabeth, from Trieste, had arrived, it is supposed to carry Maximilian home.

BERLIN, January 10.—Count Bismark in a circular to the European governments, declares that peace must be maintained, and that he will devote himself to the consolidation of Germany.

PARIS, January 10.—Seven more transports sailed for Mexico. It is believed that the French troops will be ready to embark by the 15th prox.

CONSTANTINOPLE, January 10.—The Porte has issued a circular calling the serious attention of the European powers to the affairs between Turkey and Greece, and says if there are no favorable results from his efforts for peace, he will prepare to defend the honor and integrity of his empire.

Several private bills were taken up on adverse reports from the committee and tabled without reading.

A number of other private bills of no general interest passed.

An Indian Expedition to Paris.

It is announced that a party of twelve fierce-looking Camanches, on their way from the far west to the Paris exposition, have arrived in New York city. The New York papers are discussing the best means of caging up these savages, so as to make them harmless during their stay in that city, and also on the remainder of their journey to Paris. They are a delegation from one of the wildest, most bloodthirsty, treacherous and cruel tribes of the plains, and the public generally keep at a respectful distance from them.

Emigration.

By the report of the emigration commissioners at New York, it appears that during 1866 there arrived at that port 190,972 emigrants, who were brought to that city on 506 steamships and 340 sailing vessels. It is estimated that, for the amount of labor added to the resources of the country by this valuable addition to its population, these emigrants brought with them fully $20,000,000 in money and effects. They have settled in every state of the union—the greater number, however, in the west.

Missouri Affairs.

By the annual message of Gov. Fletcher it appears that during 1866 the receipts of the Missouri treasury were $1,108,000 and the expenditures $951,000. The governor estimates the taxable wealth of the state at $400,000,000. The Missouri state debt is quite large, at least $25,000,000 of railroad bonds being pledged by the state credit. For these bonds, the railroads having defaulted, the state is now responsible.

It is a curious fact that in the pending elections for the new German parliament, Count Bismarck's liberal opponent is a Col. Frederick Hecker, who, like Carl Schurz, has lived for 17 years in America, and was naturalized as an American citizen five years after his arrival here. He commanded a union regiment during the war, and learned so much of freedom as to be not afraid even of Bismarck.

The New York postoffice letter carriers have issued an address to the public, in which they state that, during the first nine months of 1866 they delivered to the people of that city 10,977,729 letters and 1,008,178 newspapers, and gathered from various letter boxes 9,609,646 letters. The constant walking of the corps of letter carriers of a great postoffice like that of New York would amount, during a year, to many thousands of miles.

The reports that over a million dollars has been paid since December to southern claimants for confiscated cotton during the war, are unfounded.

BROWN & PERKINS' Pianos for the People!

420 Broome St., New York.

WE would call the attention of the public to our elegant New Scale Pianos, in the following styles:

STYLE A—7 octave, Front large round corners, plain case, either octagon or carved legs, serpentine bottom, bead moulding on panels $450

STYLE B—7 octave, same as style A, with serpentine fronts, octagon bottom, bead moulding on panels, carved legs and carved fronts 500

STYLE C—7 octave, Front corners large round, serpentine bottom, bead moulding same as on style B, carved lyre and desk, carved legs 550

STYLE D—7 octave, Four large round corners, rubbed back, mouldings on rim of panels, serpentine bottom, carved lyre and desk, elegant carved fruit legs 600

The above styles are all finished in elegant Rosewood cases, and have the full iron frame, French action, harp pedal, beveled top, ivory keys and keyfronts, and exceed in overstrung bass nearly all the 7½ octave pianos now manufactured. They are made of the best materials, and for finish, durability, purity and sweetness of tone, cannot be surpassed.

The four styles described above, embody all the essential changes in exterior finish of case, which are by manufacturers run up to 75 and 100 dollars.

We invite the attention of the public, of dealers and the press too, to a critical examination of the merits of our Pianos.

Having during the great expense attendant upon costly factories and expensive warerooms in the city, we are enabled to offer these Pianos at prices which defy competition, and invite all to call and examine them before purchasing elsewhere.

When references and testimonials are required by those about to purchase, instead of presenting a display of professional names, we refer to the parties to whom we have sold our pianos, their judgment as to the real merits of our instruments as to their durability, tone, sweetness and power of tone, standing in tune, is based on actual experience, being of far more value than the mere good opinion of the best, however capable, who merely tries in a warerooms. Instruments in perfect tune and order, when have just received the workmen's last finishing touches.

LOCAL MATTERS.

For the benefit of those persons calling at the counting and editorial rooms of this paper for Gen. Jordan, we wish to state that he is not now connected with the APPEAL, nor has he been so connected since last summer, and that we do not know of his whereabouts.

THE REV. J. W. ROGERS, being invited by the bishop to preach in St. Lazarus church Sunday 13th, will take for his subject, "the sinfulness of lotteries and gambling, as distinguished from the lotteries so often commanded in scripture for pious uses, conducted by prophets, and always allowed in the church."

TO THE LADIES.—Please call at No. 233 Main street, and witness the Wheeler & Wilson "Sewing Machine hem tuck, fell, gather, cord, braid etc., and you will readily see why it takes the first premium at all WORLD, STATE and COUNTY Fairs when on exhibition. All kind of work done at reduced prices. The best of machine silk and thread always on hand at the salesroom. jal2 2t

THE remarkable properties of Brown's Bronchial Troches have been thoroughly tested since first introduced. The demand for them has steadily increased, and purely upon their own merits, they have found favor with those who, from pulmonary, bronchial or asthmatic complaints, require them. For coughs and colds they are efficacious.

To the Patrons of the Appeal.

You are requested not to pay any carriers without a certificate from me, and to report at the counting desk any irregularity in carriers. L. DAVIES.

LIGHT HOUSE NON-EXPLOSIVE OIL. We offer to the public this celebrated Oil, and in doing so we unhesitatingly pronounce it superior to any burning oil in use. It is Non-Explosive;
Free from Grease;
It will not grease the hands;
It will not soil or grease the clothing;
It is more brilliant than Gas;
It produces a soft and beautiful light;
It is not so trying to the eyes.
It can be used in any Kerosene Lamp by changing or altering the Burner.
It has been most favorably received, and pronounced by judges to be the best and most reliable Oil now in the market; and in consequence of many serious accidents arising from the explosion of kerosene, this is extensively known and used in preference.
We are now prepared to furnish the trade with this valuable Oil, and we solicit from the public an examination and trial. First premium awarded at the Louisiana State Fair, held in New Orleans, from November 20th to 27, 1866, against all competitors. For sale only by REINHARDT & WETTER, 13 and 15 Monroe street, Memphis, Tenn.

IF you want Coal Oil by the barrel or gallon, call at No. 40 Jefferson street. They received to-day from Louisville, by rail, fifty barrels. jal1 2t.

CONSUMPTION.—Notwithstanding the many articles advertised to cure consumption, we do not believe, when seated too long, it can be cured. But we do know of hundreds of cases where persons were supposed to be suffering under that fatal disease, who have become perfectly well and robust from the use of Speer's port grape wine. Many times people for years waste and at last die from diseases of the kidneys or glands, when they were supposed to have and were treated for consumption. A long-continued affection of the kidneys, however, may eventually result in consumption. Speer's wine, used alone, or taken with a fresh raw egg, or new milk, daily, has been found to be an excellent remedy, and has the reputation of rendering a perfect cure for consumption.—Medical Times.
The wine certainly contains valuable properties; let our physicians and invalids try it. To be had of druggists, Nippen & Reakert, agents.

EMMONS & SON.—These enterprising news dealers are sole agents in this city for the Hesperian, a weekly published in St. Louis, and of which we made note in our last issue. They have also on hand the New York Weekly, Literary Album, Chimney Corner, Waverly and all illustrated papers—also New York dailies of the 8th. Call on them at No. 10 Jefferson street.

REMOVAL.—Megibben Brothers, the well known wholesale wine and liquor dealers, formerly of No. 44 Monroe street, have removed with their entire stock to the large and commodious building, No. 281 Main street. From a passing glance at their new establishment, we perceived quite an extensive assortment of wines and liquors, and anticipate for these gentlemen a large increase of patronage.

Farmers and Planters! Call at 296 Front street and see Henderson's Pantlers' Loom, exactly adapted to the present wants of the country.

A NEW LIGHT.—We are indebtep to Messrs. Reinhardt & Wetter, the popular hardware and stove dealers, Nos. 13 and 15 Monroe street, for something exceedingly novel and useful in the "Light House Non-explosive Oil." We have personally tested this article, and can assure the public that it is, as is claimed for it, really non-explosive, and gives a clearer, softer, and better light than any now in use. We shall, to-morrow, publish an extract from a New York paper in relation to this oil, and we heartily concur with the opinions there expressed. We invite our friends to call on Messrs. Reinhardt & Wetter and examine the oil for themselves.

POLICE BUSINESS.—There was an extraordinary large docket for trial at the northern district yesterday morning, one hundred and fifteen cases being disposed of by the commissioner, ninety-five of which were negroes. The amount of fines assessed was $563; amount collected, $239, and about $100 was said afterward on mittimus against the culprits who were not able to settle on being sentenced. About eighty-five of the above mentioned freedmen were arrested under the vagrancy act or obstructing the sidewalks. This movement on the part of the police has had a very beneficial effect, as many of the parties arrested fearing, if they remained in the city, a repetition of the dose, left yesterday for the country to work. If this course is vigorously followed up, and all negroes who cannot give a satisfactory account of themselves are arrested, the city will soon be rid of them, and the country, where their services are so much wanted, will be benefitted. We say to the M. P.'s, in this matter, "go ahead."

NIGGER BROKER.—Phil. Cowe, a yellow boy from the country, came to this city yesterday, as he alleged, to hire hands to work on the plantation of his employer in Mississippi. In his travels he formed the acquaintance of one Claib Newsom, a gentleman of color, (upon whom the police have had their eye for some time past,) who agreed to get him some hands, as he was in "de 'ployment bisnis," and introduced him to one of his accomplices as a good hand, who wanted to hire. This pair soon gained the confidence of the country darkey, and succeeded in swindling him out of about twenty dollars, partly by means of advance money, and partly by the string or "strap game." The boys not coming to time, Phil lodged a complaint at the police office, and Claib. was furnished with lodgings at the Adams street prison. His accomplice has not yet been caught.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—The benefit of M'lle. Vestvali last evening was a perfect ovation to that lady. The house was crowded to its fullest extent with the elite of the city, and all joined voices in praise of the charming artiste whose impersonation of "Henry Lagadere" was superior to anything ever seen at this theater. Her Spanish song and the "Dashing Cavalier," were truly artistic, and executed in a manner worthy of a first-class lyric performer. Vestvali praise of the charming artiste same piece, and will again delight the audience with her charming songs and thrilling dramatic ability.

THE HOP AT THE GAYOSO.—The gentlemanly and liberal proprietor of this long and favorably known house, last evening, gave a second of the series of soirees dansante which have proved so eminently enjoyable to the ladies and gentlemen in attendance; and on this particular occasion the very happily correct taste which has characterized these select entertainments was more than ordinarily conspicuous, and every one with whom we conversed seemed unanimous in pronouncing the hop a decided success. A numerous attendance of pretty and tastefully robed young ladies, good music, recherche edibles (in the order named,) constitute infallible elements for a successful party, and all these good things were noticeable Friday night at the Gayoso.

ALMOST A CONFLAGRATION.—Last evening, between four and five o'clock, on Causey street, near Linden, flames were discovered issuing from a frame shanty. The metropolitan police were instantly on the spot, and by their exertions soon put a stop to the headway of the fire. Had the flames not been smothered when they were, great destruction of property would have taken place, as the entire neighborhood is built of frame, and in a quotation to ignite with almost the rapidity of dry pine.

WHY THE COUNTY COURT SHOULD PAY UP.—Considerable complaint having arisen on account of the county court not paying up certain bills, we publish the following for the benefit of that honorable body, and trust the judge will act accordingly: Section 525, paragraph 1, of the code of Tennessee, directs the judges to issue warrants for the amount due to liquidate debts of the county.

THIEF CAUGHT.—David Barton, (colored) the pork thief who so successfully eluded the officers on Tuesday, was not cute enough to get away from officer P. Cusick, who arrested him yesterday and lodged him safely in the Adams street station. He will be required to answer to the charge this morning.

RUNAWAY.—A gentleman was yesterday riding down Second street in a buggy when one of the wheels struck those of a dray, at which his horse took fright and ran away, upsetting the buggy and smashing it up, and giving its occupant a severe fall, but without breaking any bones.

THE CORONER.—The election of our friend, W. B. Cotton, a few days ago, was a most worthy and sensible selection. Mr. Cotton's long residence in our city and his large circle of acquaintances here, makes him a most excellent choice for the position.

VERY QUIET.—No arrests were made at the second district police station from Friday morning at one o'clock until three in the afternoon. Fourteen hours of peace in this city is a blessing not often heard of.

DISCHARGED.—Jno. Walker, a negro, who was arrested on Thursday last, charged with stealing a gold watch, was up yesterday before Esquire Creighton and dismissed for want of evidence.

LET GO.—A negro named John Hubbard, who, a few days ago cut another African, was yesterday discharged from custody, no one appearing against him.

"THE OLYMPIC."—This elegant temple of Momus will reopen to night. An entire new company has been engaged, who will appear in new and spirited acts never before presented to the Memphis public. The manager will constantly produce new performers in new specialties, such as cannot fail to please the discriminating public. Look in on us and see if we do not please. "A word to the wise is sufficient." Admission, only 25 cents, to suit the stringency of the times.

RIVER MATTERS.

Weather and Business.

The weather is yet pleasant, with cool nights. Business on the landing, owing to the arrival of local steamers with very fair cotton trips, was quite brisk during the day. There is but little ice now in the river, which continues to fall at this point. The ice below is clear of ice and falling, with less than six feet to Cairo. At Cincinnati, on yesterday, it was quite cold with heavy ice running, and no indication of an early opening of navigation. The White, Arkansas and St. Francis rivers are falling.

Boats in Port.

Norman, Die Vernon, Des Are, Antelope, Rose Hambleton, Gleaner, Southerner, Lady.

Miscellaneous.

The Belle Memphis came in with 100 bales of cotton, 1100 sacks of grain and a big passenger trip. She lost thirty hours by getting aground at Plumb point.

The Die Vernon brought up her cabin full of passengers and 250 bales of cotton on deck. She goes down and takes the Southerner's freight this morning.

The Rose Hambleton, we were informed by Mr. Wells, her clerk, brought in 160 bales of cotton, besides a full cabin.

The Des Are brought in 550 bales of cotton from White river. Capt. John will bring it out if its ready.

Capt. Nat. Green, we learn, takes command of the Gleaner this trip.

The swift packet Lady will be at the landing this morning, and leave at 5 p.m., sharp.

We learn that Capt. Dick Mason was to have left for New Orleans last evening, to make some arrangement about the Southerner. Her debts are said to be very heavy, and it will probably be two weeks before they are adjusted.

NOTICE.—All shippers having freight on the Southerner are notified by Jas. T. Bourne & Co., agents, to call at their office and surrender bills of lading for the purpose of reshipping on another boat. The Die Vernon will take all the Southerner's freight at same terms. Don't fail to call at No. 12 Jefferson street early to-day and make your arrangements.

"An Alton paper says the steamer R. E. Lee is faster than the famous Altona, which in years past ran between St. Louis and Alton. It regards the name as a very good selection, as the fleetness of the steamer will be a constant reminder to the ex-rebels of the remarkably good times made by the general-in-chief of the Confederate army, on his retreat before the national forces after the evacuation of Richmond."

The above we clip from a dirty radical sheet, published in Porkopolis, called the Commercial. It is not original, being clipped previously from that other equally dirty thing of St. Louis, called the Democrat, which in turn copied it from a dirtier Alton sheet. If such it be, the Alton paper first alluded to. It is a remarkable fact the little dogs who keep on the outside of the ring make the most noise. We will venture a week's salary that neither one of the parties who inserted the above thing at the glorious old Hero ever saw a rebel, except it be in prison at Alton or St. Louis; while the pork-eater, it is said, when John Morgan and Kirby Smith visited those parts, took refuge on a gunboat.

The passengers of the Robert Burns from this port to Cairo, on her last trip, published at the latter place the following card of thanks to Capt. Eugene Bowers:

"We, the undersigned, passengers on board the Robert Burns on her last trip from Memphis to Cairo, feel desirous to express our gratitude to Capt. E. E. Bowers and his efficient officers for their untiring efforts in putting her through a most difficult ice gorge above Columbus, ahead of the boats Ruth and Alice Dean, and cannot but think that it was entirely through his perseverance that a passage was made through. We cheerfully recommend the Robert Burns to the traveling public as a boat well worthy of their patronage."

The Louisville Courier of the 10th says: The river was falling slowly yesterday, with five feet four inches water in the canal, in the evening, by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had fallen two inches at the head of the falls, and six inches at Portland. The weather was moderating all day, with the thermometer ranging from 38 to 40, but it was freezing at night, with a big white frost yesterday morning. On the falls there were scant three and a half feet water in the chute down the Indiana shore. The river, though pretty full of ice, was far less obstructed yesterday than it had been for several days. The ice had thinned out, or had nearly all run out, the weather not being hard enough to make more. There is a good deal of ice along the shores and the wharf space from Fourth street to the canal is full of heavy ice. The river was falling very slowly at Cincinnati yesterday, with moderating weather.

The old stern-wheeler Marietta, was sold at sheriff's sale at St. Louis, on Wednesday last, to Wm. C. Daggett for $2,700. The Marietta has been laid up at the lower landing for several months past, having made but one cruise in twelve months, and that was with Lipman's circus from Cincinnati to St. Paul and back to St. Louis, where she was "tied up" for debt.

FOR ST. LOUIS.—The elegant and fast passenger packet Belle Memphis will leave our landing this evening at 5 o'clock for St. Louis and all way landings. Capt. Musselman commands her and a more urbane and affable gentleman could not be desired as a companion on voyage. W. C. Postle, sup't.

FOR PINE BLUFF.—The swift and fascinating steamer Rose Hambleton slips her line to-day at 5 p.m. for the above and all intermediate points. She is a FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, January 11, 1867.

Gold has met with another slight decline since our last, and brokers to-day bought at 50 to 53c.

Silver is scarce. Brokers offer 22 to 23c.

City scrip continues very dull. Brokers buy at 55 to 57c and sell at 60 to 65c.

County warrants are in fair demand—buying at 90 to 92c, and selling at 95 to 97c.

Exchange is yet quite dull. Banks buy at ¼ to ½ off, and check at par to ¼ off.

In uncurrent money we have no change to report. The want of currency prevents speculation, and brokers only keep on hand enough for their immediate wants. We do not alter our quotations. They will be found correct: Bank of Tennessee, 55c; Bank of Chattanooga, 20; Bank of West Tennessee, 6; Union Bank, 80; Planters' Bank, 80; Bank of Memphis, par; Bank of Middle Tennessee, 90; City Bank of Nashville, 50; Merchants' Bank, 75; Ocoee, 20; Bank of Shelbyville, 80; Traders' Bank, 50; Southern, 20.

Bonds.—State of Tennessee 6's, long loan, 92c; Memphis city bonds, with coupons for 1861, 70c; Interest coupons, 45c; Memphis and Charleston railroad bonds, 80c; Mobile and Ohio railroad bonds, 64c; Mississippi and Tennessee railroad bonds, 65c.

We learn that authentic advices from Hamburg have been received, which show that United States government securities are much in favor in Germany, and will be sought after at advancing prices, if the political incident should occur to shake public confidence in the stability of our institutions.

The rumor of an impending conflict of authority between the different branches of our government have occasioned some hesitation about sales to the permanence of government responsibility. Were such doubts removed, nothing would prevent our bonds from reaching par, and even a high premium. Political uncertainty here is the main cause of the low price of our bonds abroad. No doubt is entertained of our ability and disposition to pay the entire debt. With admiration foreign nations have witnessed the payment of two hundred millions or more in the first years after the close of the war. Why then, should United States six per cent. bonds be quoted in London at 71, while consols, bearing only three per cent. interest, bring over 90 in money? The difference against the American bonds is caused solely by the apprehension that the war now waged by the distructionists against the executive and the judiciary may ultimately, and perhaps at no distant day, result in a disruption of the government.

As to the financial questions which we have to notice, confidence is felt in the fact that they will not long embarrass us. We can withstand, for a time at least, the injurious effects of crude, loose, and unenlightened legislation respecting taxation and the currency. We can surmount the obstacles of a fifty per cent. tariff and of a paper money system, which takes bread from labor, while it accumulates fortunes for speculators.

The losses attending a civil war can be repaired, but the loss of our constitution, with its checks and balances, would be irrevocable. The dangers that lie ahead are seen in time to be avoided, and much confidence is felt that we shall avoid them.

General Business.

Although the weather continues very fine business is not revived to the extent it was anticipated some four weeks ago. A certain backwardness is evident on the part of purchasers, those even who have the money to buy. The general belief among the trade which spread during the close of the year, that provisions, dry goods and, in fact, all articles, would decline in price, has not yet been dissipated. This impression, together with the uncertainty of congressional action—as almost every important question—will, we fear, have a deleterious effect for some time to come.

COTTON—The market was variable during the day, with a little feeling toward the close. Prices, however, were a shade better than on yesterday. Middling sold at 30c, while bright styles of that grade did, in some instances, bring 31c. Receipts for day, 1760 bales; shipments, 1944 bales.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

[The talented authoress of the following beautiful lines, which we take from the Boston Post, is about to publish a book of her poems. It only requires to be known that she is one of Georgia's lovely daughters, and the authoress of—

"Oh, yes! I am a Southern girl.
And glory in the name!"

And also of that soul-stirring lyric—

"Georgia, my Georgia!"

to recommend her book at once to the Southern heart. Carrie Bell Sinclair is one of the rising lady poets of our section, and the South should not only be proud of her genius, but show its appreciation of it by a liberal purchase of her book when it appears.]

ONE YEAR AGO!

BY CARRIE BELL SINCLAIR.

One year ago! One year ago!
The sweet spell lingers round these words,
While Fancy's fingers gently wake
The music of sweet Memory's chords.
Why do I dream those moments o'er?
Why gaze upon this faded flower?
The past will never more return,
And Memory can but soothe an hour.

One year ago!—oh! changing time,
Not only with the buds and flowers
Have sweet blooms and beauty here,
But perished happy, golden hours!
I watched awhile the rosy beams
That followed Summer in her tread,
And gathered there the flowers that now
Lie on her bier—cold and dead!

I sought to keep them fresh with Love,
While fridge her pearly dews distilled;
And the deep fount of Memory,
Awhile with sweet perfume was filled;
But when the Summer time had past,
And Autumn came with chilly hours,
Love, Hope and Memory still were left,
But faded were my Summer flowers!

Oh! thus it is, thou changing year,
With every Summer that departs,
Lie faded garlands o'er the earth,
And withered blossoms in our hearts!
We sadly gaze upon the wreck
Of what was bright one year ago,
And sigh to think that all things fair
Are doomed, alas! to perish so!

But yet 'tis sweet to live again
O'er moments that were once so bright;
To lift the veil that hides the Past,
And flood those isles with Memory's light
And since this little faded flower
Has sweetly charmed an hour of woe,
I'll prize it as a sacred thing,
For it was bright, one year ago!

And oh! when other years have winged
Their flight unto the silent Past,
Still may some sunshine linger then
Round every shadow grief may cast;
May Hope there fold her snowy wings,
And Memory shed a brighter glow,
That we may still the fonder cling
To what we loved one year ago!

LOSS BY PORTLAND FIRE, JULY 4.

The total amount covered by the Ætna Policies on property destroyed or damaged is $290,884, on which salvage will be about five per cent. Total loss will not say much from $220,000, and was promptly adjusted and paid. This sum is five per cent upon the company's assets, a fire last slightly exceeding our government and State taxes paid last year, or a proportion equal to a $500 loss for a company of $100,000 assets.

The necessity for insurance and the value of wealthy, strongly managed companies illustrated by this fire. Several weak insurance companies are destroyed. Portland has a population of 30,000—was handsomely built of mostly fine brick or stone structures—protected and covered with upwards of 300 steam engines—bounded on three sides by water—indeed, literally, almost rising from the ocean—and when a steady gale from the ocean, over two thousand property consumed in a few hours—upon a holiday when its people are most occupied—from the very insignificant cause of a contemptible fire cracker.

Remember the trifling weight of fires that sweep away in a few hours the earnings of years. Consider your best interest and give the Ætna Agent a call if you need proper insurance security. Pay a fair rate of premium for a good and genuine article, and with these lights and experience before you, you cannot insure amiss with shrewd judgment.

NEW SOUTHERN MUSIC BOOK
Just Published:
TABOR;
OR, THE
Richmond Collection of Sacred Music.
BY R. M. McINTOSH,
Of Virginia.

Essentially Southern in its [illegible]tures, Taken nevertheless containing [illegible] of the best Northern copy-ri[illegible] author, for four years [illegible] of the Southern States [illegible]ments sustained during its ma[illegible]ed counterpart in Virginia, [illegible] at the funeral of Gen. T. J. Jack[illegible]Sto. wall, May 17, 1863, was from his pen, and is included in this collection.

"Mr. McIntosh," says the Richmond Whig, "is well known throughout the South as an author of unquestioned excellence, and as a musical reputation rarely attained by any one kind of lisonge in this country. In the South he stands at the very head of church music, no one disputing the position with him."

The book embraces everything of value of Southern or Southwestern origin, much of which is now for the first time reduced to a written form. Its variety is great—embracing all metres in use, in every key and every variety of measured time, with a full choir, a full complement and fine collection of new anthems, set pieces and sentences. It contains nearly 300 closely printed pages, handsomely and tastefully gotten up, well printed and bound.

Price, $2 50, for which it will be sent, post free, to any part of the country.

Single copies, for examination and introduction, sent to any address, postage paid, on receipt of one dollar.
